AGENCY OVERVIEW

The Baltimore Development Corporation (BDC) is a non-profit organization that serves as the economic development agency for the City of Baltimore. BDC's mission is to grow the city's economy in an inclusive, equitable manner by retaining, expanding, and attracting businesses, and by promoting strategic investment that increases career and wealth-building opportunities for residents.

BDC's capital program is focused on supporting a diverse ecosystem of businesses—including small, minority-owned, immigrant-owned, LGBTQIA+-owned, and legacy businesses—through targeted loans, grants, and technical assistance. At the same time, BDC works closely with larger employers and anchor institutions to promote job creation, commercial investment, and long-term economic stability.

BDC is committed to advancing economic equity across all neighborhoods in Baltimore City. This includes intentionally directing resources to historically underinvested communities, expanding access to capital for entrepreneurs who face systemic barriers, and ensuring that both emerging small businesses and established companies have the tools needed to grow and thrive. By strengthening the full spectrum of Baltimore's business community, BDC helps drive a more resilient, competitive, and inclusive local economy—one where all residents have a fair opportunity to benefit from economic progress.

Baltimore Together.

A Platform for Inclusive Prosperity

Baltimore Together is a public-private initiative that will implement a shared vision of inclusive economic growth using specific goals, actions, and accountability measures over a 5-year period.

Baltimore Together, is Baltimore's Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy adopted by the City's Planning Commission in 2021. October 27th – 30th BDC held its 4th Annual Summit celebrating 4 years of progress. The plan includes an implementation Matrix with 99 activities promoting economic inclusivity and equity.

PLAN ALIGNMENT

The work of Baltimore Together relies on engagement from all parts of our community. The original plan includes an Implementation Matrix: Appendix 7, articulating 99 different activities related to growing an inclusive and equitable economy. To hold ourselves accountable to the work and goals, we track progress in the seven goals outlined in the original report.

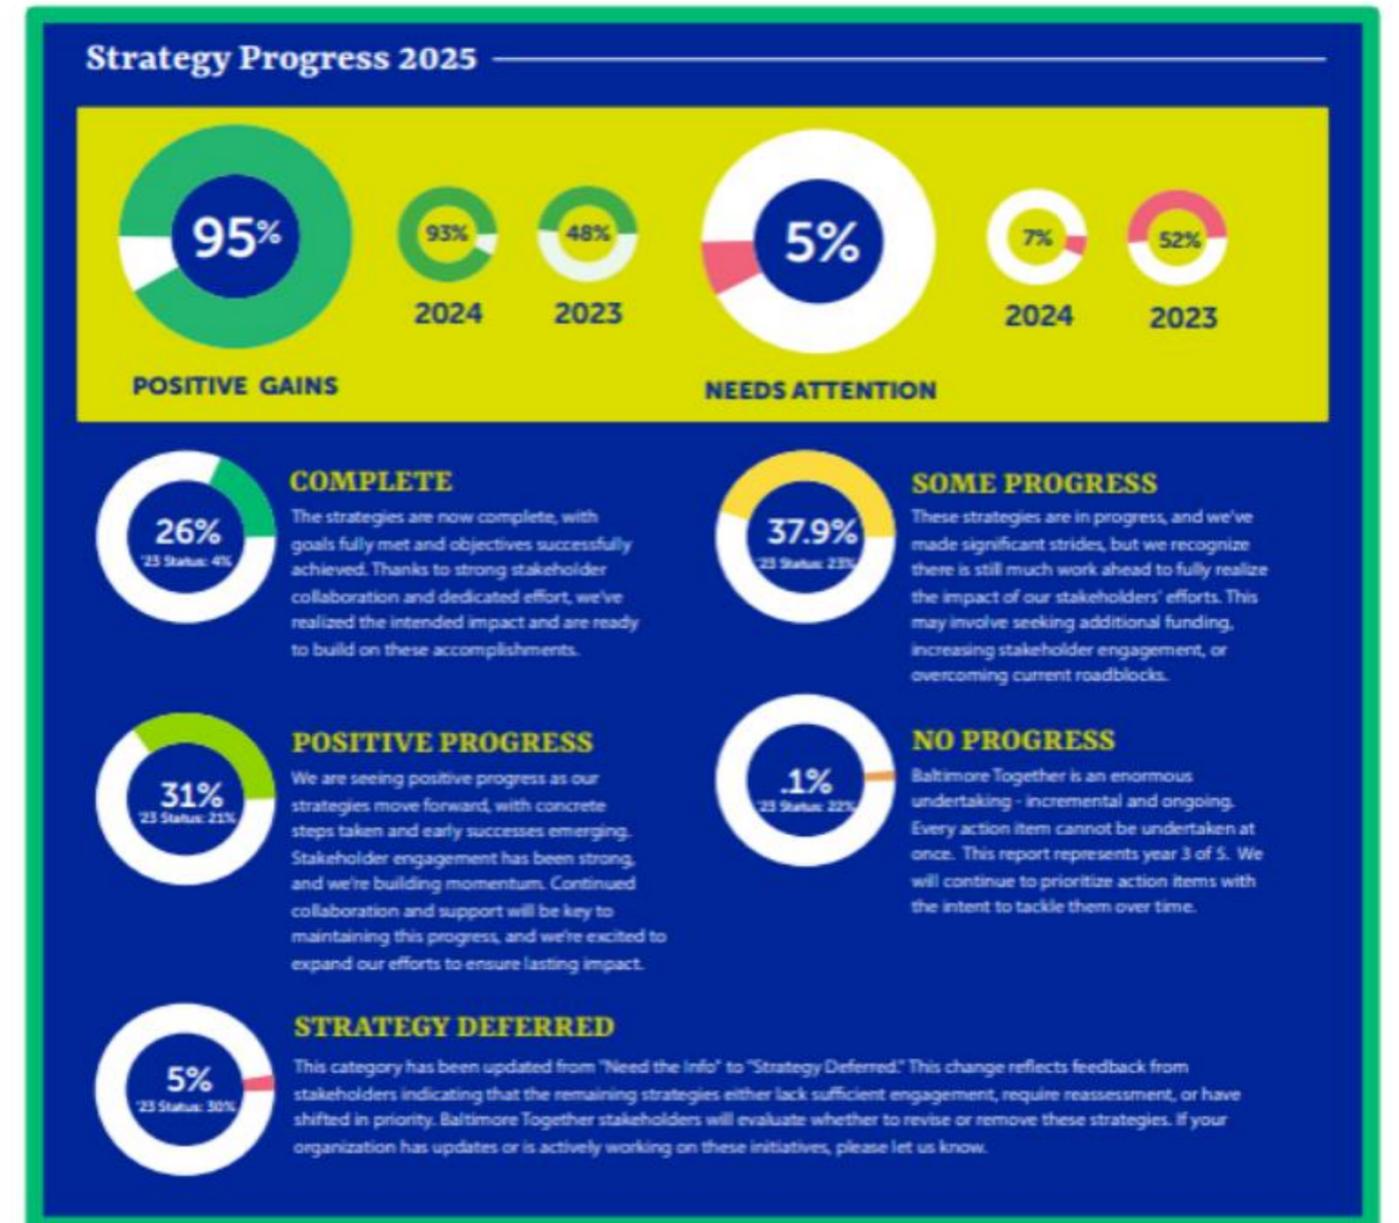

This year, overall status remained steady at 95% “Positive Progress” and 5% “Needing Attention,” a slight improvement compared to 2024. Notably, "Completed" strategies increased from 18% to 26%. The stability in results is largely due to the completion of ten more strategies and deferral of two for a total of five deferred strategies. Deferred strategies are those that require reassessment or have shifted in priority due to changing market conditions or adjustments in approach.

As we enter the final year of this CEDS, we call on residents, business leaders, policymakers, and community organizations to help us capture and report the transformative work underway.

Their input will be vital as BDC begins developing the next CEDS in the coming year. Together, we can build a stronger, more equitable city in 2026 and beyond.

AGENCY ASSETS

As the City's economic development organization, BDC works with City agencies and partners to assist with capital investment in City-owned properties with economic development potential.

Property Stabilization: BDC assesses City-owned buildings through the Westside Stabilization fund to identify candidates for disposition or short-term capital investment to prevent deterioration. Of 80 BDC-assigned parcels in the area since 2013,

- 25 have been sold and redeveloped
- 15 have been sold and are permitted or under construction
- 13 are in pre-development prior to disposition
- 27 remained BDC-controlled City assets

Inner Harbor Infrastructure: BDC worked with DOT to complete a State of Good Repair report in 2022, which guides our Capital requests for the Inner Harbor.

BDC USE OF GIS (GEOGRAPHIC INFORMATION SYSTEMS) FOR CIP

The GIS system is an important tool for BDC. It is often used to collect data on who we serve and where we are serving them. With regards to the CIP, GIS

- Identify to the public where the project or program is located in the city.
- Inform Baltimore residents of BDC activities in their communities. We believe the residents of Baltimore need to know our activities in their community.
- Allow BDC to collect and analyze socioeconomic data on the location of the program to determine if we are satisfying the mayor's goals of providing equitable services to all communities.
- To know the residents, we are serving. The socioeconomic data provides background information on the residents we are serving. The more information we have on our residents the better we can design the programs serving them.

THE EQUITY FACTOR IN CIP REQUESTS

BDC is committed to developing a Capital Improvement Program that fully aligns with the City's equity standards and advances equitable economic growth across Baltimore.

Structural Equity: BDC evaluates long-standing disparities in investment and uses data-driven tools to prioritize projects that address historic disinvestment—particularly in communities with high concentrations of BIPOC residents, immigrant populations, and individuals and families living in poverty.

Procedural Equity: BDC embeds transparency and stakeholder engagement by engaging residents, community associations, small-business owners, and advocacy organizations—including those representing LGBTQIA+ individuals, older adults, and persons with disabilities.

Distributional Equity: BDC allocates capital resources to maximize fair outcomes for all communities and prevent disproportionate burdens—particularly for low-income residents, people with disabilities, and historically marginalized populations.

Transgenerational Equity: BDC prioritizes investments that create long-term, sustainable benefits for future generations—supporting affordable commercial space, historic preservation, employment corridor access, and community-serving infrastructure.

POLICY ISSUES

Critical Issues Facing BDC in Coming Years

- Commercial Real Estate Crisis: Addressing challenges in Baltimore's Central Business District with strategic intervention and adaptive reuse strategies
- Small Business Capital Readiness & Access: Reactivating and expanding lending programs to address financing gaps for emerging and growing businesses
- Neighborhood Commercial Corridor Vitality: Sustaining and strengthening commercial districts across all communities
- Workforce and Business Development Alignment: Connecting capital investments to workforce opportunities for City residents

Recent Steps to Improve Capital Programming

- Organizational restructuring to enhance project execution capacity through new senior leadership positions
- Alignment of CIP with current Baltimore Together comprehensive economic development strategy
- Enhanced financial reconciliation and audit processes to strengthen program accountability
- Development of performance metrics frameworks to measure economic development outcomes

CONCLUSION

BDC's FY27-32 Capital Improvement Program represents a strategic investment of $27.56M across nine projects to advance inclusive economic development throughout Baltimore.

Key Priorities:

- Support small business growth and retention through lending and grant programs
- Strengthen commercial corridors and neighborhood vitality citywide
- Advance transformational projects including Downtown RISE and Charm TV Community Incubator
- Maintain critical infrastructure at the Inner Harbor

Our investments are guided by the City's Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy (CEDS) and the City's equity framework, ensuring capital resources reach communities that have historically faced barriers to economic opportunity.
